

Terms of the Giveaway

Entries will be randomly selected for copies of the resource within 24 hours of the close of the giveaway.

Only one entry per person is allowed for each drawing.

Only the winners will be contacted within 24 hours of the close of the giveaway.

No purchase or fee is necessary to participate.

Participants must have a U.S. mailing address, and be an adult in their state of residence at the time of participation.

Email addresses will not be shared with or sold to another party. Entries may receive periodic announcements, offers, and updates from J. D. Payne.

Potential winners will be contacted via the email addresses provided. A mailing address will be requested in order to receive the resource. Mailing addresses will only be used to ship the resource, and will be discarded after shipping. Mailing addresses will not be shared with or sold to another party.

The following possibilities may require the selecting of another potential winner: If the initial potential winner does not respond within 48 hours of initial email contact, it will be assumed that the participant has forfeited his/her copy of the resource. If the mailed resource is returned as "undeliverable," then it will be assumed that the participant has forfeited his/her copy of the resource. If the potential winner declines the resource, then forfeiture will be assumed. If the potential winner is ineligible as noted in these terms (or declared ineligible by law), then that individual will be disqualified.